

GIRL'S LEGS FOUND AT VAN CORTLANDT

Discovery in Pool Linked to Mystery of Torso in Long Island City.

THROWN NEAR SUBWAY

Decomposition Is Slight,
but Limbs Are Wrapped in Oct. 20 Paper.

CASE DEVELOPED OCT. 22

Yonkers Man Chances to See
White Package in Lot
Crossed by Creek.

The legs of a woman, severed at the knee, were found last night beside a pool of water in an uncultivated part of Van Cortlandt Park, at Broadway and 240th street. The police began an investigation at once, Capt. Arthur Carey, commanding the Homicide Squad, taking charge of the detectives. It was believed at first that the legs presented a new murder mystery, but Capt. Carey, after examining them with Dr. Carl Kennard, Chief Medical Examiner of The Bronx, said they probably were a part of the missing portions of the body of the woman found on October 22 near Rawson street and Queens Boulevard, Long Island City.

See Legs by Chance.

From the police of the Kingsbridge station it was learned the legs were discovered by Walter Johnson of 137 Stanley avenue, Yonkers. Johnson, on his way home from work, was walking down the sidewalk between 240th and 241st streets when he happened to step to the edge of the embankment that slopes down ten feet into the lot at that point. At the foot of the embankment the ground levels out and stretches east toward the park proper and the Putnam division of the New York Central.

Decomposition Slight.

Dr. Kennard, after a brief examination, said one thing that stood in the way of an identification of the legs as belonging to the body found on October 22 was the fact that they were not decomposed. There was only a slight indication of decomposition, Dr. Kennard said, too, however, that the legs were not fresh. He said that the legs were found in a pool of water, and that the legs were found in a pool of water, and that the legs were found in a pool of water.

10 MILE SPEED LIMIT FOR TRUCKS PROPOSED

La Guardia Measure Provides for Sealed Governors.

The speed for all automobile trucks or other motor vehicles used for the transportation of freight will be limited to ten miles an hour in the city limits if an ordinance introduced in the Board of Aldermen yesterday by the president, Fiorello H. La Guardia, becomes a law. The ordinance provides that all such vehicles be provided with governors, which shall be sealed to prevent a speed of greater than twelve miles, the additional two miles being allowed as a margin for use on hills. The sealing shall be done by the Police Department at a cost of $2 and the governors shall be regulated by the department each year at a cost of $1.

6 ALLEGED GANGSTERS ARRESTED IN FLAT

Suspected in Shooting of Albert Dooley, Chauffeur.

Detectives Walsh, Garvey and Gompers of the West 123d street station went to an apartment in 164 West 147th street yesterday and arrested six men, alleged by the police to be gangsters, and looked them up charged with being implicated in the shooting of Albert Dooley, a chauffeur, of 464 West 165th street, in front of the Hattie & Seaman Kiosk Hall in 125th street on the night of October 7.

NEW TRIAL FOR COHEN ALLEGED BAFF SLAYER

Now Serving Life Sentence After Commutation.

Joseph Cohen, who was convicted in 1917 of having instigated the murder of Bennett Baff in 1914, was granted a new trial by Justice Gavis in the Supreme Court yesterday on the ground that the main testimony against Cohen was so manifestly perjured that no conviction should be allowed to stand upon it. Baff, a poultry dealer, was shot to death by gunmen in West Washington Market.

20 HOBOES GET HOUSE FREE, WITH TURKEY TO FOLLOW

Impecunious Boston and Chicago Visitors, Unworried
by Rent Laws, Occupy Brownstone Residence
Until They Become Altogether Too Exclusive.

Detectives John Caspers and Frank Rowser of the West Sixty-eighth street station went into West Fortieth street yesterday morning and found that twenty men, unemployed and with only fifty cents in cash among them, had taken possession of the four story brownstone and brick house at 218 and were living there more or less comfortably without paying rent to any one. The house, which has eleven rooms and has not been occupied for several years, is between Seventh and Eighth avenues, within a block and a half of Broadway and less than a block from the Metropolitan Opera House.

The detectives, after watching the house for a time, found that not only had the twenty men taken possession of it and were using it for living quarters, but they had set up their own little government and had appointed a committee to decide upon the names for the rooms. Several times while the detectives watched them went to the house and wanted to get in, but always their applications were turned down by the committee, to which the matter was presented by a man who gave his name as Clarence Dorsey, a negro of Chicago, and who acted as doorman.

DR. LORENZ STARTS CLINIC WORK TO-DAY

Austrian Surgeon to Receive Patients at Hospital for Joint Diseases.

Dr. Adolf Lorenz, of Vienna, who arrived here yesterday, will start full facilities for practicing the orthopedic surgery which made him famous. Until yesterday he was doubtful of the reception he would receive from the medical profession here. Because no hospitals had opened their doors to him Dr. Lorenz has been forced to turn away several hundred patients who had been waiting for him at the Murray Hill Hotel in the hope that the distinguished Austrian surgeon could accomplish the "impossible," as he did in the case of Miss Louisa Armour in Chicago eighteen years ago.

Beginning to-day Dr. Lorenz will hold a clinic every day at the Hospital for Joint Diseases, Madison avenue and 123d street, from 9 o'clock in the morning until noon. St. Mark's Hospital, 177 Second avenue, also has placed its clinic at the disposal of Dr. Lorenz, and examinations will be held there daily between 2 and 5 P. M., beginning to-morrow.

The board of directors of the Hospital for Joint Diseases, described by Dr. Lorenz as one of the finest of its kind and far superior to any in his own country, has turned over a floor to Dr. Lorenz for examinations and operations. Two physicians, two nurses and a stenographer will assist him.

COURT APOLOGIZES FOR ACTOR'S ARREST

Brinckerhoff Shows Mistake in Identity.

The Court of Special Sessions apologized yesterday to Harry P. Brinckerhoff, an actor playing with the "Maytime" company at the Shubert-Riviera, after witnesses convinced the court that he was not a burglar who is being sought by a surety company.

50 CENTS A DAY GIVEN AS WIFE'S ALLOWANCE

She So Declares in Suit for Separation.

Mrs. Bertha Bern, wife of Dr. Phillip Bern, a dentist of Jamaica, is suing her husband for separation in the Queens Supreme Court, and yesterday through her attorney she applied for alimony and counsel fees pending trial of the action. In her complaint Mrs. Bern makes the following statement:

K. OF C. BEGIN CAMPAIGN FOR WELFARE CENTRE

Open $2,000,000 Drive With Ball at Hotel Commodore.

The Knights of Columbus campaign for a $2,000,000 welfare centre began last night with a huge ball, which opened three of the main ballrooms of the Hotel Commodore. Every Roman Catholic parish of the diocese of New York was represented by delegations of men and women. There was a reception by William P. Larkin, chairman of the campaign; William E. Foley, chairman of the committee; and their fellow workers, Mrs. Joseph J. Sullivan, Jr., head of the patronesses, Mayor John F. Hylan made a speech to the guests.

ALLEGED STOWAWAY FIREBUGS RELEASED

Accused of Trying to Burn Steamer, but Evidence Lacks.

Robert Brady, Joseph Ryan and Leo Kolozski, who were brought here in from last week aboard the French line's steamship Savole charged with an attempt to destroy the boat of the steamer, were released yesterday by United States Commissioner S. M. Hitchcock, when it was announced by Assistant United States Attorney M. R. Matthea that the Government would not proceed with the prosecution of the case.

HEDLEY TO TESTIFY ABOUT R. TO-DAY

Board Minutes to Be Read and Members Called in Transit Inquiry.

'YELLOW DOG' IS SOUGHT

Interborough's Excess Power
Sold at Profit Which Helped Subway's Showing.

Frank Hedley, president and general manager of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, probably will be the first witness called when the Transit Commission resumes its examination this morning at 48 Lafayette street. Clarence J. Shearn is prepared to put him through an exhaustive inquiry concerning the company's finances and operation.

Board Members to Be Called.

Steps have been taken to assure the presence in person of members of the I. R. T. board of that period who still are living. It is not likely, however, that any of them will be sworn and interrogated until the hearings are resumed next week after the Thanksgiving holiday.

Three Truckmen Discharged After Wild Fight With Five of Henry's Men.

The three men who were arrested in the Bronx last Thursday night after they had interfered with the operation of a small automobile occupied by five detectives of Inspector Henry's staff and then had fought the detectives in front of the Morrisania police station were discharged yesterday by Magistrate Jesse Silberman in the Morrisania court.

Exhibition of Paintings by French Cubists and Post-Impressionists

in the Wanamaker Galleries of Decorative Art

The exhibition includes paintings by twenty-seven of the younger French modernists whose predecessors were responsible for the modern movement in French Art, and who, in the New York Armory Show of 1913, created a sensation which has perhaps never been equalled by any single event in the art history of America.

The exhibition, held under the auspices of BELMAISON, will continue in the Wanamaker Gallery of Decorative Art from today until December 17th.

The public is cordially invited to attend, especially those persons interested in the development of the modern Art idea of the past few years.

Fur-trimmed Fashions

Wide bands of caracul, borders of wolf or mole-skin, fringes of squirrel, monkey or goat fur—are used with velvets, brocades, kasha cloths, crepes, to make a distinctive collection of afternoon gowns.

We have pictured

(1) Venetian red duvetyne and black caracul in a frock especially attractive to wear with one of the new short fur coats, $295.

(2) Gold and a dull blue brocade banded with taupe wolf fur in a gown of medieval simplicity and dignity, $197.50.

Reproductions of French gowns include charming examples in black velvet, with quaint beading and black and white goat fur—by LANVIN; —black duvetyne with a knee deep border of caracul and a girdle of carved wooden beads, and a gown of interwoven strips of navy blue duvetyne over old blue crepe de chine, and bordered with wolf, both by JENNY.

Other Frocks —duvetyne or velvet in black, brown or rust, with deep hem lines, $89.50 to $195. Smart and most practical afternoon frocks.

—crepes in black, trimmed in various ways with monkey fur, with delightful silhouettes and making the most of uneven hem lines, $89.50 to $195.

Other fur trimmed frocks in velvet, kasha cloth and tricotine, $69.50 to $365.

A Thanksgiving Price--$42.50

---on 200 Men's-Fine Ulsters, Today

They were made for us—but not to be sold for this low price. Everything about them is just as planned—except the price. Any man who gets one of them will be making a very substantial saving.

There are ulsters for town wear, for evening wear, for the bitterest storm. Grays and browns. Dark and medium colors. Every ulster quarter lined with silk satin. Some plaid backs. Some plain backs.

Good choice in every size, 35 to 46.

—and on 3,000 Men's Shirts—$1.55

A real Thanksgiving offer

3,000, all of fine WOVEN madras—part of a very large purchase of shirts such as a year ago sold for $2.50 to $4 each.

The first lot of this purchase went out very quickly. Men bought them by the dozen and half dozen. All the kinds that were in that first shipment are in this—white corded madras, mercerized stripe madras, and the various narrow, wide, single and cluster stripe effects in blue, gray, tan, black and pink.
